

THE WRIGHT BUILD

Quantity Surveyor

The Wright Build is looking for a motivated and detail-oriented Quantity Surveyor to join our growing Central Otago team.

Established in 2015 by Nick Wright, The Wright Build operates across Central Otago and the Southern Lakes, delivering high-quality architectural homes, residential projects, rural lifestyle developments, renovations, and selected commercial builds. With an in-house architectural design team and a strong focus on project management, craftsmanship, client experience, and efficient systems, this role is ideal for someone who wants to be involved across the full design-to-construction process.

We are looking for someone with residential and/or commercial construction QS experience who is highly organised, confident with technology and software, and motivated to help improve systems and processes as our business continues to grow.

Key Responsibilities

- Prepare take-offs, quote requests, cost estimates and claims
- Prepare purchase orders
- Monitor project costs, back costs, and report on financial performance
- Prepare and process variations
- Assist with forecasting, scheduling and reporting
- Contribute to the ongoing improvement of company systems and processes
- Support smarter technology and software-driven efficiencies across the business
- Liaise with clients, suppliers, consultants, subcontractors and trades as required
- Support project documentation and coordination, including plan revisions, engineering documentation, council requirements and contract documents

What We're Looking For

- 3+ years' experience in residential and/or commercial construction quantity surveying
- A diploma or Degree in Quantity Surveying is preferred
- Strong attention to detail and organisational skills
- Strong computer, software and systems capability
- Interest in technology, innovation and process improvement
- Good communication and relationship management skills
- Ability to manage multiple projects and deadlines

- Sound understanding of New Zealand residential and commercial construction practices
- Knowledge of the NZ Building Code, NZS 3604 or related standards is advantageous
- Positive attitude and ambition to grow within the business
- Experience with construction software such as Procore, Buildertrend or Tradify is an advantage

Why Join The Wright Build?

- Work on high-quality architectural, residential, rural lifestyle and commercial projects across Central Otago and the Southern Lakes
- Be part of a supportive, close-knit and experienced team
- Gain exposure across the full design and construction process
- Work closely with directors, project managers, clients, consultants and suppliers
- Enjoy a diverse role with real responsibility and autonomy
- Help shape and improve internal systems as the business grows
- Long-term career growth within a respected local building company
- Competitive remuneration based on experience

If you are looking for an opportunity to grow your career with a modern building company that values quality workmanship, design, client experience, technology and continuous improvement, we would love to hear from you.
